Ten Things Sellers Will Miss Most

1122C 23rd Ave S | Judkins Park

Convenient to everywhere: The light rail station just a block away makes for short commutes and easy trips to other neighborhoods for dinner and nearby freeway access makes getting around so quick and easy.

Amazing natural light: Floor-to-ceiling windows, skylight, and vaulted ceilings fill the top floor with light year-round. It's one of our favorite things!

Our neighbors and community: We'll greatly miss our neighbors and the wonderful sense of community here.

Neighborhood favorites: We love having Temple bakery and so many great restaurants nearby, including Fish Guys, Woodshop BBQ, Reckless Noodles, Jackson Street Pizza and Hey Day.

Storage: There's room for so much stuff, with storage throughout the home and an incredible amount of extra space in the crawl space.

Third-floor built-ins: The built-ins along the entire wall on the third floor give us plenty of room for books, our favorite items to display and everyday storage.

Rain on the metal roof: We'll miss the comforting sound of rain on the metal roof. It makes rainy days at home feel especially cozy.

Judkins Park: Having a huge park so close, with easy access to the Mountains to Sound Greenway Trail makes it easy to get outside and enjoy the summer days.

A kitchen we love: The kitchen feels open and spacious, while deeper counters and deep lower cabinets provide plenty of workspace and storage. We upgraded all the appliances last year to create our ideal setup.

Heated floors: Radiant floor heat makes every room feel cozy and comfortable, especially on those chilly mornings.
