Natalie U. Roy | Bicycling Realty Group (BRG), KW Metro Center

Before real estate, Natalie Roy worked as an environmental professional and community activist for more than 30 years. "I use my advocacy and community experience to help clients realize their real estate goals," she says, "whether it's selling quickly at the best possible price or finding the perfect home."

Natalie specializes in Arlington and covers much of Northern Virginia. She and her husband recently updated their 2022 Homebuyer's Guide to Arlington neighborhoods for clients new to the area. A biking enthusiast, Natalie and her team also offer bicycling realty services. "There's no better way to check out a community than by biking through it," she says. "Schedule a bike house-hunting tour today for a fun and informative real estate workout. We also house hunt by car, foot and Metro!"
