1514 25 AVENUE SW

More space, more privacy, and a layout that feels more like a detached home than a typical townhome. Instead of the narrow layout most townhomes default to, the main floor is wide, bright and open, with the kitchen, dining and living spaces spanning a generous, well-connected floor plan.

Elevated one level above the street, the main living area feels private, and from here you can experience the neighborhood without feeling like everyone's looking right back in. The kitchen is finished with crisp, clean cabinetry, quartz countertops, a gas range and an oversized island, with a custom built dining nook alongside made for everyday dinners, game nights and conversations that run later than planned. A fireplace with surrounding built-ins anchors the living room, a good place to settle in at the end of the day, and the south-facing balcony looks out toward the heritage homes across the street.

Upstairs, the primary bedroom is especially spacious, with a large walk-in closet and private ensuite. Two additional bedrooms, a full bathroom and the laundry room round out the top floor, ideal for a family, or an office, nursery or guest room. Central air conditioning was added two years ago.

You also get your own private driveway and an attached garage, with painted floors and finished walls, currently set up with a home gym while still leaving room for a vehicle. Pull in, close the garage door, and the city feels a little farther away.

The street is quiet, with mature trees, no through traffic, and sits directly across from heritage homes that give the block extra character, the kind of inner-city street where you start to recognize the same faces on the sidewalk. A new children's park is being installed just across the street. Local favourites Starbucks and "Actually Pretty Good" Pizza are a one-minute walk away, while Our Daily Brett and IBU Restaurant are about five minutes away. Enjoy easy access to downtown, 17th Avenue and Marda Loop, while coming home to a quiet, low-traffic residential street.

Landscaping is low-maintenance, and the home has been pet-free throughout. Condo fees are low and include snow removal, so winter mornings start with a coffee, not a shovel. It's a low maintenance, quiet inner-city townhome with a layout, garage and driveway you don't usually find at this price point, all on a street worth settling into.

WELCOME TO BANKVIEW

Bankview is a neighbourhood in the southwest quadrant of the city of Calgary, Alberta. The neighbourhood is bounded by 17th Avenue SW on the north, 26th Avenue SW on the south, 14th Street SW on the east and 19th Street SW on the west. It is a residential neighbourhood located southwest of the high density Beltline district of the inner city.

HISTORY

William Nimmons purchased the lands of the present day Bankview neighbourhood from the Hudson's Bay Company in 1882, for ranching and farming. He established the 3-D-Bar Ranch on these lands, and later a sandstone quarry and a theater (the Mount Royal Theatre). The Nimmons residence, built in 1884, is now a heritage building, and still stands in the northeast corner of Bankview.

By 1902, during a housing shortage due to 1900s economic boom, Nimmons divided the land, and begun selling plots to newly arrived settlers. In 1908, the remainder of the land was bought by the City of Calgary, and was divided in the traditional grid system.

Bankview was established as a neighbourhood in 1908. The district saw a major redesign in 1950, allowing for higher density apartment buildings and the community now has an area redevelopment plan in place.
