~ Rocky View County ~

From the country road just five minutes from Cochrane, this A-frame cedar chalet appears as a charming retreat tucked among the trees. Step back to discover the extraordinary truth - 20 sweeping acres unfold before you, revealing some of the most coveted panoramic views in the region, stretching east to west toward the Rocky Mountains. Step inside and your eyes are instantly drawn to the great room's dramatic wall of windows framing ever-changing vistas - morning fog drifting along the river valley, chinook arches sweeping winter skies, and storm clouds rolling across the landscape in nature's constant theatre. Warm cedar walls and ceilings create an intimate atmosphere, while natural slate flooring grounds you in earthy elegance. Vintage skis and snowshoes adorning the walls speak to outdoor living - evenings by the fire after days spent exploring the outdoors. The distinctive spiral staircase connects three thoughtfully designed levels.

The main floor offers rustic charm with knotty pine kitchen cabinetry, hardwood floors, and a wonderful bunkhouse-style bedroom that sparks childhood memories. Upstairs, two bedrooms include a versatile space perfect for an office, while the primary suite features a private balcony retreat for morning coffee while soaking in those remarkable views. The walkout basement provides flexible space with practical tiled floors and even includes a surprise climbing wall for adventure-seekers.

Beyond the home, an older barn with updated siding, windows, and metal roofing presents intriguing possibilities - home office, workshop, or transformation into guest quarters for multi-generational living. This remarkable 20-acre canvas invites multiple visions. Embrace the existing rustic charm as your private sanctuary. Create your custom dream estate with unlimited space for expansion. Or recognise the strategic potential as development continues transforming this prime Cochrane corridor. Whether seeking authentic country living, multi-generational possibilities, or future investment opportunity, this rare offering provides the foundation for dreams both immediate and long-term. In a market where exceptional acreage properties are increasingly scarce, this home stands alone - where breathtaking views, thoughtful design, and limitless potential converge on one of Alberta's most desirable landscapes.

HISTORY

<https://www.rockyview.ca/history>

The district of Alberta was created as part of the North-West Territories in 1882. As settlement increased, local representatives to the North-West Legislative Assembly were added. After a long campaign for autonomy, in 1905 the district of Alberta was enlarged and given provincial status, however remaining under the North-West Territories ordinance.

In 1912, the Rural Municipality Act was put in place for towns, villages, rural municipal districts, and improvement districts. The most notable change was the extension of self-government to rural areas. The small improvement districts were dissolved and 55 rural municipalities, each containing nine townships, were created. The Rural Municipality Act stated that 50 per cent of the taxes raised in each township were to be spent on road improvements and the remainder could be spent at Council's discretion. Other changes included electing councillors at large rather than by ward, and taxing according to the cash value of the land without improvements, rather than by acre.

In 1918, the Rural Municipality Act was renamed the Municipal Districts Act, changing the name of rural municipalities to rural districts. This continued until the 1940s when the provincial government restructured the entire system. The 1930s had been a tough time, taxes were hard to collect and road construction had been halted. The reorganization of the new municipal districts was done to create a more stable fiscal base, allowing services and road construction to begin again.

HISTORY CONTINUED...

<https://www.rockyview.ca/history>

In the early 1950s, the provincial government had to correct the problem of overlapping jurisdictions between the municipal districts and school districts. Municipal boundaries were redrawn to include school districts. The existing local municipalities were dissolved in 1955 and amalgamated into the Municipal District of Calgary No. 44. The first meeting of the Municipal District of Calgary was held March 15, 1955. The eight Councillors were Osia Rosenberger, Alois Reumiller, Janus Wray, L.H. Bittle, James Robinson, Robin Echlin, Amos Joyce, and J. Lewis Bull as Reeve.

The name "Municipal District of Calgary No. 44" was unpopular and in December 1955, a contest was held among school children to rename the municipality. The winner, Mr. Leslie Burwash of Balzac, won $25 for his submission "Rocky View." On January 1, 1956, the name "Municipal District of Rocky View No. 44" became official.

On July 7, 2009, the Municipal District of Rocky View No. 44 officially changed the name to Rocky View County. A new corporate logo and brand were launched in December of the same year.

RURAL LIVING

<https://www.rockyview.ca/rural-living>

Rural living is rich and rewarding, yet it is important that new residents know that rural life in Rocky View County is very different from life in the city.

Agriculture greatly shapes the economic, cultural and social fabric of the County. You have chosen to live in a rural setting among ranch and farm families. You can expect to share many of the benefits and challenges they enjoy, like open space and tranquility, wildlife sightings, variable weather and road conditions.

Here are some tips on how you can be a good neighbour in our rural community:

- Farmers and ranchers often work around the clock, especially during calving season in the spring and harvest time in late summer. Nearby agricultural operations may disturb your otherwise quiet surroundings. In most cases, those times will pass, so please be patient.
- Livestock may cause objectionable odors and noise. If you find them annoying, you may want to find a neighbourhood that is more urban.
- Gravel roads generate dust. If you're on gravel roads adjacent to ranch lands and farming operations, drive slowly and with care. Excessive dust can affect both the health of the cattle and the quality of crops in the fields.
- Land preparation may cause dust, especially during dry windy weather.
- Large, slow moving machinery is often transported from field to field during seeding and harvest, and occasionally livestock may get out onto the road. Expect the unexpected and please drive carefully.
- Cattle are occasionally moved on public roads. When you encounter a cattle drive, please pull over to the side of the road and allow the cattle to pass. If a rider directs you to move forward, do so slowly.

RURAL LIVING

Here are some tips on how you can be a good neighbour in our rural community:

- Herbicides may be used to control invasive weeds that can overtake farmland or native rangelands. Farmers and ranchers, just as all others, must operate within the constraints of public health and safety legislation that dictate the use of these products. Herbicides may legally be applied by airplanes that fly in the early morning and late in the evening. Expect the unexpected.
- The County enforces the Weed Control Act of Alberta. If your property has invasive weeds, it is your responsibility to know and control them. Some plants are poisonous to horses and other livestock.
- Pets / Animals. You are responsible to keep your animals/pets on your property and under your control. Dogs harassing livestock can be shot legally.
- Animals can be dangerous. Cattle, stallions, rams, and boars can attack humans. Do not enter pens or fields where animals are kept.
- Fencing. If you own livestock, it is your responsibility to fence them in, not your neighbor's responsibility to fence them out.
- Firearm use on farms is permitted. Farmers with proper firearms license can shoot animals that are considered pests on their own land.
- Fire permits are required for farmers and acreage owners who live in Rocky View County. Don't burn without a permit.
- Feeding wildlife is dangerous—for wildlife. Enjoy wildlife from a distance and do not feed any wildlife.
