THE FOUR SEASONS HOTEL

Noted architect Kobi Karp oversaw the contextual design of Four Seasons Hotel and Private Residences Fort Lauderdale. The building's elegant curved silhouette with oversized terraces is placed above a three-story podium and is designed to optimize the ocean and beach views from each residence. A louvered façade surrounds the base, enhancing the tropical plantings and terraced garden promenades.

A FOUR SEASONS ARRIVAL

The two-story porte cochère, tropically landscaped by Fernando Wong, shelters the arrival to Four Seasons Hotel and Private Residences Fort Lauderdale. To ensure privacy, there are distinctive entrances for the Hotel and the Private Residences. A coordinated team of door personnel, valets, and Four Seasons concierge greets owners and their guests.

LOBBY

The two-story lobby designed by Tara Bernerd, as well as the grand staircase, sets the tone for the Four Seasons Hotel and Residences Fort Lauderdale experience. Bernerd designed the hotel and residence interiors, including the elegant lobby with its stone and millwork detail and a careful selection of European mid-century-inspired furnishings, creating a welcoming environment for both residents and guests.

FOUR SEASONS BEACH BUTLER

On the white sands for Fort Lauderdale, the Four Seasons Beach Butler provides an array of à-la-carte services, including chaise lounges with cabana umbrellas; Four Seasons blankets; gourmet picnic baskets with organic composed salads, handcrafted sandwiches, artisanal cheeses, home-baked breads, seasonal fruit tarts, fine wines, and sparkling waters; and leisure accompaniments, from beach volleyball to soccer on the sand. Younger guests and residents will appreciate the Four Seasons sandcastle accessories and organized beach activities. The team of Four Seasons Beach Butlers is always at your service.

OCEANFRONT POOL DECK

The heart of Four Seasons Hotel and Private Residences Fort Lauderdale is the Ocean Terrace, created by celebrated interior designer Martin Brudnizki in collaboration with creative landscape designer Fernando Wong. Two distinctive horizon-edged pools are situated on the captivating Côte d'Azur-inspired third-floor Ocean Terrace. This environment includes the ocean-view indoor-outdoor cafe and adjacent pool bar. Custom-designed cabanas provide sheltered comfort with uninterrupted views of the sand and surf. The carefully placed landscaping vignettes offer a tropical sanctuary above the sands of Fort Lauderdale Beach.

DISTINGUISHED DINING

Four Seasons Hotel and Private Residences Fort Lauderdale hosts the beach's two most desired epicurean experiences, designed by Martin Brudnizki. The third-floor pool deck houses an all-day indoor-outdoor restaurant with an adjacent pool bar. A fine-dining restaurant with a terraced veranda is located next to the garden promenade. Residents will be able to access priority reservations as well as arrange for in-residence dining through the Four Seasons concierge.
