

A portrait of a smiling woman with blonde hair, wearing a white blazer and a chain necklace, standing in front of a window with greenery.

Orange County has grown and her team directly designed to empower

JoJo Romeo & Associates of Pacific Sotheby's, Newport Beach JoJo Romeo, a highly empathic individual with a knack for connecting with others, has discovered her calling in assisting people through the emotional journey of buying or selling a home. With her experience in guiding individuals through transitions, Romeo focuses on a "People First" approach in real estate, ensuring her clients' best interests are prioritized. Known for her exceptional design, and decor skills, Romeo brings boundless energy, a deep understanding of Feng Shui, extensive real estate knowledge, and a strong network of investors and service providers in Orange County. Despite approaching a billion dollars in sales since 2011, Romeo remains humble, hungry, and genuinely cares about serving her clients. Grounded in her family, daily spiritual reflection, and a strong sense of self, Romeo aspires to be dynamic—a positive spark for her community, loved ones, and clients. Her dynamism extends beyond financial gains; she strives to do good while excelling in her profession. Romeo's approach involves helping her clients visualize a brighter future and providing comprehensive support, both mentally and financially, to ensure their success in real estate endeavors.