Belonging to an industry dominated by professionals more than twice his age, Alex has already made a name for himself in just over a year working as a realtor. While most new agents are lucky to successfully complete their first year, Alex closed $15 million of property volume and placed in the top 100 agents for Coldwell Banker in the San Francisco Bay Area Peninsula for 2013. In addition, he is one of the youngest agents in the company with Previews Property Specialist designation, a title reserved for only the most esteemed agents worldwide. All of this at age 26. Much of Alex's success can be attributed to a strong background in technology and social media and being able to implement them into real estate, setting himself apart in the crowded industry. Alex is part of The Buljan Group of Coldwell Banker Residential in Burlingame, CA.
