

Meet Your Neighbor

Susan Lang & Robert Levenson are your new neighbors here at Creekside at Unit #32.

Susan grew up in San Rafael, attended high school there and then graduated from Scripps College in Claremont, CA. She obtained her certificate in occupational therapy and worked at UC Medical Center in San Francisco for ten years. Susan is also skilled in ceramics and, after UC Med, opened a ceramics studio in Noe Valley and her own private practice in occupational therapy in SF.

Robert hails from New York and went to Cornell for his veterinary education. His passion, however, was (and remains) molecular biology. He completed his post doc work at UC Berkeley in 1962 and his Air Force commitment in 1964. Robert is still involved in tax strategy planning and financial management and is busier than ever.

Susan and Robert founded and still manage two non-profits to promote better health for humankind.

While in the process of selling their Woodside Hills home (where they resided for 30 years), their realtor, David Costello, mentioned a place they should consider living...Creekside Oaks. David's grandmother used to own the property that is now Creekside Oaks. Small world! A chance meeting between Susan and Fran Rappaport led to the purchase of their lovely unit here.

Susan wants our residents to know how grateful she and Robert are for the warm welcome they have received from everyone. It has taken a while for them to get to meet many of us due to an injury Susan incurred (the day they moved in!) but they are finally getting out and about and look forward to meeting more folks as the weather improves.
