The Orum House is a spectacular, AIA award-winning masterpiece of contemporary architecture and design situated on a private promontory in Bel Air. Famed architect Zoltan Pali envisioned the 3-story residence to float above its surroundings, wrapping it in glass that frames panoramic views of the Getty Center, Downtown L.A. and the Pacific Ocean. The steel and glass structure features three wings, balancing views, scale and comfort to create a living experience that accommodates large-scale entertaining and warm, inviting family life. Encompassing 18,850 square feet of interior living, 6,000 square feet of deck space, 9 bedrooms and 15 baths, The Orum House was designed to offer amenities for gathering, wellness and entertainment. Among its features are dual master suites, dual chef's kitchens, shaded patios with fire pit lounges, an LED-lit pool and spa, 1,000-bottle wine room, Dolby Atmos theater, wellness center, parking for 30 cars, and a 4-bedroom guesthouse.
