JOHN UTTER - STRONGTOWER BUILD & REMODEL

With over 30 years in construction, John started as a laborer and quickly learned framing, siding, and roofing. He honed his skills in finish carpentry while working for a custom home builder before moving to Kentucky in the early 2000s to work on log homes. After gaining experience in remodeling with a general contractor, he founded StrongTower Build and Remodel, focusing on custom homes and timber framing. Outside of work, he enjoys time with his kids, volunteering in disaster relief, and lifting heavy at the gym.

Review

"Courtney was wonderful! I was nervous purchasing my first home but she made it so easy! She's kind and you can tell she truly loves what she does! I would recommend her to anyone purchasing a home!"
