KATHY REISDORF & CINDY METZ ARE SHAPING THE SCOTTSDALE MARKET

Kathy Reisdorf and Cindy Metz, the team behind Reisdorf Metz & Partners at Russ Lyon Sotheby's International Realty, bring decades of experience and a deep passion for real estate to their roles as Global Real Estate Advisors.

For Cindy, real estate was a natural path. "My mother was a Realtor, and I learned a lot from her," she says. "I've tried to do the same for my daughter, Katie, who's now a third-generation realtor and an important part of our team. Together, we love working with people and delivering exceptional service."

With over 20 years in the industry, Kathy is equally passionate. "Every transaction is a chance to help someone achieve their homeownership dreams—whether it's a first-time buyer, a growing family, or someone downsizing. It's always a privilege to play a small but meaningful role in people's lives," she shares.

For Kathy, homes are more than financial transactions. "A house is not only a primary investment—it's a personal sanctuary. It's where people live, work, grow, and celebrate life's milestones," she explains.

This client-centered philosophy shapes their approach to real estate. Cindy adds, "We take our responsibility to our clients seriously, and it shows in our results. Our business is 75% referral-driven, which speaks to the trust our clients place in us."

Now more than ever, staying informed is critical, particularly with significant industry shifts like the recent NAR settlement. Kathy stresses the need for strong representation. "We must educate buyers and sellers about how to best protect their interests," she says.
