Jamie Rahimian

Global Real Estate Advisor

Jamie Rahimian is a real estate advisor and custom home expert who brings creativity, professionalism, and a client-first mindset to every transaction. Known for her calm presence and efficient, high-touch service, Jamie helps buyers, sellers, and investors envision the true potential of any property.

A California native with roots in a service-oriented family, Jamie naturally gravitated toward a career centered on people and design. Today, as a partner at NCO Development, she specializes in custom builds, renovations, and resale — always with an eye toward future-focused, sustainable living.

Based in Truckee with her husband and three boys, Jamie embraces the Lake Tahoe lifestyle, blending community involvement with her love of history, gardening, and even the occasional ballet move. Passionate, discreet, and purpose-driven, she values lasting relationships over transactions and is committed to helping clients build not just homes, but futures.
