What's your home really worth in today's market?

That's really the question you should be asking yourself.

Our market is incredibly diverse, and rapidly changing. Values vary not just by neighborhood, but by street. Your home isn't necessarily worth what your neighbors' home is. At the end of the day, it's the current market that sets the value of your home.

So, do you know what your home is worth in today's market?

4 Ways To Give Your Offer an Edge This Spring

Looking to buy a home this season? Here's what you should know.

Buyers have more leverage today than they've had in years. There are more homes to choose from and, in many areas, sellers are more open to negotiation.

But that doesn't mean competition is gone completely. These days, it varies a lot depending on where you're hoping to move. If you're buying in a popular neighborhood, or in a market where there aren't many homes for sale, you may still find yourself competing with another buyer.

And that's especially true in the Spring. Here's how to stay one step ahead of any competition this season.

The Forbes Group Property Management Difference

Great company! This company has been a pleasure to work with. I've personally used them for two of my own properties to lease out and they chose some extremely qualified and on time paying tenants who took great care of both of my properties. After a 2 year rental period I had to sell one of the properties and Mark was used as my real estate agent and the home was sold after the first weekend of showings! Phil is extremely easy to work with on the property management end. I have had 3 separate friends who were in need of places to rent and when I turned them over to Phil within days they found new residences. They even contacted me and told me when they moved into their new places they met the outgoing tenants of the units and they commented that Forbes was the best landlord they ever rented from!
