the soul of a place is in the nature that surrounds it — and the people who share it

At Fortune, we believe our success comes from our philosophy to develop world-class projects designed to impact and improve the way people live. It really is part of our DNA to put our heart and soul into everything we do and to bring communities together.

ORA by Casa Tua is our revolutionary next step. It's an incredible collaboration of brilliant minds that set out to create a building with a purpose, one designed to satisfy future generations through spaces that interpret the lifestyle of the community we're trying to serve. Together, we've created an oasis in the heart of Miami's vibrant Brickell neighborhood that features impeccable residences, exceptional amenities, and spaces where people can reconnect and establish new relationships.

We want ORA to be the city's amenity with spaces that are purposeful, have a friendly atmosphere, and allow people to experience life to the fullest. We've designed the building from the inside out so that the moment you arrive it immediately feels like home. We welcome you to your new home- Ora by Casa Tua.

ORA is Now. We made a clear decision to make ORA a place that addresses the needs of our evolving world. A soulful place that looks to the past to bring solutions for the future. ORA will offer you more of what we really need—more time, more human connection, more passion, more fun. We envision ORA to be a new kind of residential experience, a true vertical community where people rediscover their relationship with themselves, with others and the natural world. Our lobby will be vibrant with a 24-hour market and bakery and the rooftop will be buzzing with live music and jam sessions. We will create a first of its kind restaurant that celebrates collaboration—where chefs from all over the world will lend their recipes for wood-burning cooking. Separately, a wine enoteca will teach you how to pair food with carefully curated wines. At the heart of the building is a four story live garden in the middle of this dense metropolis that will renew your spirit and make you smile. Units will be designed to be functional, warm and inviting and allow for the rental flexibility. Life happens Now, join us on the journey...
