

VALIA Properties announces membership to Global Collective – an Exclusive Community for Real Estate Leaders with $1B in Career Sales

Corona del Mar, CA – (October 20, 2021) VALIA Properties has joined the Global Collective, a worldwide network of the top performing real estate professionals. Global Collective provides consumers with a worldwide directory of luxury listings, a pre-vetted rolodex of skilled real estate professionals, and an expertly-written lifestyle and real estate knowledge base. All agent members hold a high level of production and have been internationally recognized for their successes. VALIA Properties accolades include $2.5 billion in Sales and recognized by The Wall Street Journal in the Top 100 of the Top 1000 Sales Teams in the United States for eight consecutive years. The Global Collective website is live as of October 20th, 2021.

Global Collective is a place where consumers have access to a directory of luxury listings worldwide in a more immersive and efficient way, giving them the best opportunity to search for their perfect next home. As a member of the Global Collective, VALIA Properties now has expanded service offerings to reach a worldwide pool of high-net worth buyers and sellers to provide an unparalleled level of service for clients.

Global Collective's exclusive lifestyle and real estate content is dedicated to helping consumers curate an exceptional way of living through expertly-written articles on fashion, design, architecture, sports, travel, dining, and more. Additionally, the site will host real-time market updates to help consumers make informed real estate decisions and stay in the know with current trends.

"Global Collective is a new way for our clients to have an elevated and global referral network while giving consumers a platform to trust and expect the highest level quality of service and homes from. Global Collective is more than just a website, it is connecting home buyers and sellers to a lifestyle. After months of working on getting this live, I am beyond thrilled to have our members launched on the new website!"

- Malte Kramer
CEO, Luxury Presence

Global Collective is an exclusive membership group and consumer website designed, built, and maintained by Luxury Presence, the leading all-in-one real estate marketing platform.

VALIA Properties
valiaOC.com
949-673-0789

###