Property Description

- Less than 4% of tallgrass prairies survive in North America, making it one of the rarest and most endangered ecosystems in the world. The current property owners have been working for about 2 years to remove invasive species and restore the land with tallgrasses and wildflowers native to the Edwards Plateau region of Texas. Some of these grasses and forbs include: side oats gramma, switchgrass, eastern gammagrass, sea oats, bushy bluestem, little bluestem, big bluestem, indian grass, goldenrod, buttonbush, sunflowers, 3 varieties of milkweed, zexmenia, firewheel, turk's cap, red sage, twistleaf yucca, and more.

- Tallgrass prairies are home to a diverse group of animals, in particular insects and birds. Wildlife is abundant on the property and includes whitetail deer, axis deer, turkey, and dove for hunting. Foxes, herons, owls, native pollinators, various songbirds, small fish and lizards have been observed as well.
- Wildlife valuation is already in place, significantly lowering taxes.
- Beautiful rock croppings and ledges on the south side of the property.
- A great mix of trees, including several large mature hardwood trees that provide great shade along the river's edge. Large pecans, soapberry, little walnuts, false willows, sycamore, and more. Variety of new oaks and cypress planted as part of a 2-year land restoration project.
- Private 5 acre park next door makes the land feel even more open.
- Fenced on 3 sides; fence in good condition.
- New 16' gate installed in Nov 2020.
- Electric easement in place.
- About 600 ft of Blanco River frontage. Own both sides of live water!
