SAISD moves forward with land sale for downtown Missions ballpark

The Missions Minor League Baseball team are one step closer to building a new $160 million 7,500-seat stadium in downtown San Antonio, following official approval by San Antonio Independent School District to execute the purchase of the final piece of land: a 2.29 acre gravel lot.

Located on Cameron Street, the dusty lot is owned by SAISD, and opponents of the new baseball stadium hoped the school district could put the brakes on downtown development by delaying its sale.

But following months of tough bargaining and closed-door meetings, the school board approved a resolution giving the district's superintendent and board president the power to finalize a deal and transfer ownership of the lot from SAISD to Bexar County.

This comes after many residents from the nearby Soap Factory Apartments, who will have to relocate as a result of the stadium's construction, asked the school board not to play ball with the Missions and developer Weston Urban.

Weston Urban's co-founder Graham Weston and CEO Randy Smith are part of Designated Bidders LLC, an investment group that bought the Missions baseball team three years ago. The team currently plays at the Nelson W. Wolff Municipal Stadium, which opened in 1994 on the city's West Side.

In December, the SAISD entered into a non-binding memo of understanding with the City of San Antonio, Bexar County, Weston Urban Management LLC and Designated Bidders.

This was in exchange for land for a new Advanced Learning Academy campus, employee parking lot, at least 1,250 affordable housing units within the district's boundaries, access to the future stadium for event space and a seat on the Houston Street Tax Increment Reinvestment Zone.

Board members voted last-minute to alter a few elements the district will receive in exchange for the land sale after meeting in closed session for nearly three hours Monday night:

- Appointing an SAISD official to the San Antonio Housing Trust and Foundation
- Bexar County's "commitment to adopt" a five-year plan for affordable housing in consultation with the district by Dec. 31
- Land for SAISD to expand an ALA program
- Land for a new parking garage near the Fox Tech campus, including the construction use and eventual ownership of the garage
- Change to the Quincy Street parking garage lease to "alleviate" parking fees and give the district more operational control of the garage
- Access and use of the new baseball park for SAISD students and events

"The benefits the district will receive in terms of the land for the ALA expansion and more parking for Fox Tech will be long lasting," said board member Ed Garza. "Those are projects the districts couldn't have been able to do on its own."

Chef Michael Sohocki unveils three new concepts in SA's Five Points neighborhood

Jan 11, 2022, 2:46pm CST Updated: Jan 11, 2022, 3:12pm CST

In an industry still being battered by the pandemic, Chef Michael Sohocki, known for his farm-to-table dishes at the now-shuttered Restaurant Gwendolyn, is now welcoming patrons at both his reopened Kimura location as well as his new fine-dining concept, aptly named 5 Points, in San Antonio's Five Points neighborhood.

Kimura, a Japanese ramen house and Izakaya (a Japanese bar serving snacks), officially reopened on Monday at 1017 N. Flores St., while 5 Points Food & Drink opened today.

The new home for Sohocki's team will act as the fresh bastion for his Gwendolyn Group, comprised of 42 employees.

Like its predecessor Restaurant Gwendolyn, 5 Points aims to offer locally sourced, upscale European and New American fare in the same building as Kimura, with staff from both restaurants working on the same line in the same kitchen.

"This new business is a combination of Kimura and the mostly European food that Gwendolyn used to execute. We've perfected a lot of heavy hitters. We wanted it to be more casual and easygoing. Half of the downstairs is 5 Points, the other half is Kimura," Sohocki said.

The property's upstairs will be home to Dash, a bar concept.

"This is more like a western bar. We have liquors from all over the world, and we've done some odes to Kimura's culture with ingredients from Japan. It should be well rounded."

The property will also feature two outside dining spaces. With supplies and appliances brought over from the previous restaurants, the space will aesthetically combine the best of Gwendolyn Group.

"We've taken at least half of the existing equipment and put it back into use. We gutted Kimura and Gwendolyn and brought it over," he said.

Sohocki — who trained at New York's Culinary Institute of America — remains focused on sustainable food despite rising prices, increased competition and the many challenges facing the food service industry during the pandemic.

"We still buy from local farmers and ranchers," he said. "I want to support them and keep telling their story all day long — I want it to be idealistically pure."

But a transforming South Texas food movement has altered his plans slightly, with Sohocki saying local ingredients have been harder to purchase in the past four years, a fact that he says the pandemic didn't help.

"The local food movement took a dive, it stopped being the bill paying momentum. It became less cool by the large numbers."

Sohocki, citing the financial strain of operating restaurants downtown, closed his ramen concept — founded with Japanese native Jennifer Wade — and Gwendolyn in the fall of 2021.

Both Kimura and 5 Points Food & Wine will welcome diners Mondays through Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

2-10-2025

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent. An owner's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent. A buyer/tenant's agent fees are not set by law and are fully negotiable.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - o that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - o that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - o any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.
