

What We Love About the House...

2049 Chestnut Oak Trail Commerce, GA

This house has windows everywhere, and on a sunny morning the whole living area just glows. You'll never have to flip on a lamp before noon, and the light just beautifully shifts across the room as the day goes on.

The open floorplan is the heart of the home. The living room flows right into the kitchen, so whoever is cooking is never cut off from the conversation. The kitchen itself is modern and easy to love, and it's the backdrop for countless morning coffees, weeknight dinners, and friends gathered around.

The primary suite on the main level is such a luxury. It makes everyday life feel easy, and the double vanities in the bathroom mean no waiting for your turn in the morning.

The back patio looks out over the beautiful greens of Sandy Creek Golf Course, with so much open space that it feels like the view goes on forever. Evenings out there, watching the sun go down over the course, is something out of a movie!

Tucked into a quiet cul-de-sac, the home offers a sense of privacy and peace that's hard to find. Yet you're only minutes from I-85, with an easy drive to UGA for game days or Tanger Outlets for an afternoon of shopping. It's truly the best of both worlds.
