SANDRO DAZZAN

COLDWELL BANKER | GLOBAL LUXURY
REALTOR

Malibu native, Sandro Dazzan has quickly earned a place among the country's top real estate agents. He has been consistently named among the Top 250 Realtors in the United States by The Wall Street Journal and was named by Forbes in their "30 Under 30" list. With a degree in economics from UCLA and a lifelong knowledge of Malibu, Sandro's success is attributed to his exceptional work ethic and an undeniable passion for the place he calls home.

Q: What qualities make you a Modern Man?

A: Being an expert in my industry and trustworthy to my clients, friends and family.

Q: Typical day as a Modern Man look like?

A: After my morning beach run, I am typically the first one in the office to get a jump on my day to help my clients buy or sell in Malibu. After a long day, I love to go for a sunset hike and then cook dinner at home for my girlfriend and me.

Q: One piece of advice that always stuck with me?

A: Be passionate about what you do no matter what it is. If you are truly passionate about something, people will be drawn to that.

Q: Favorite weekend getaway?

A: Driving up the coast to Big Sur and staying at one of my favorite hotels, The Post Ranch Inn.

Q: What is your spirit animal?

A: An Osprey, also known as a sea hawk. If you are lucky you can spot one in Malibu, they are so beautiful!

Q: If you had to choose another career, what do you think you would do?

A: I am so fortunate to sell something I believe in and love, which is Malibu Real Estate. If I had to choose another career it would involve helping animals or being in the outdoors.
