

213.700.6515
david@davidlukan.com
@compassrealtor
DRE 01873011

Top producers are masters of their craft.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT | DAVID LUKAN

Like a film producer who guides an idea from conception to acceptance speech, a top real estate agent has to play many roles on the road to a successful deal. I know because I grew up with real estate in my blood and have established a distinguished reputation among both clients and colleagues.

I dedicate myself fully to my clients and make their goals my own. As an East Coast and European transplant, my global perspective informs my approach to real estate. My clients benefit from my deep network of international relationships and proven marketing expertise.

My accomplished team of professionals works harmoniously to guarantee every detail is attended to and nothing falls through the cracks. They handle every aspect of the business and each has a niche specialization based on their unique background and strengths.

A one-stop shop, we coordinate staging, remodeling, temporary relocation, estate liquidations and photography to make sure a home is ready for its red carpet debut. So clients have even one less thing to worry about, as part of the Compass Concierge program, we cover many traditionally out-of-pocket expenses and recoup the costs once the property sells.

While I was somehow overlooked by the Academy this year, I had the highest annual sales volume in Downtown LA and the majority of my business continues to come from referrals—in my book, that's as good as any statue.