

YAWAR CHARLIE

LUXURY REAL ESTATE EXPERT, MEDIA PERSONALITY & SPEAKER

Yawar Charlie is a Los Angeles based luxury real estate expert, television personality, and nationally recognized speaker known for blending market expertise, media savvy, storytelling, and authentic connection. As Director of Estates with Christie's International Real Estate Southern California, Yawar is part of one of the most prestigious luxury real estate networks in the world.

With nearly two decades in the industry, Yawar has become one of the most visible and quoted voices in luxury real estate and lifestyle media. His expertise spans luxury branding, consumer psychology, social media influence, lifestyle trends, relationship driven business, and the evolving emotional connection people have with home.

Before real estate, Yawar built a successful career in television and entertainment, an experience that shaped his dynamic communication style and ability to deeply connect with audiences. His speaking style is conversational, energetic, insightful, and rooted in real world experience.

In addition to his real estate career, Yawar has served the City of West Hollywood as a Commissioner for more than a decade, helping shape conversations surrounding community identity, architecture, housing, and preservation.
